Awards given out to students achieving academic excellence

Raleigh, NC- More than 500 Saint Augustine's College students will receive academic awards today for their outstanding achievements in the classroom. The annual awards day ceremony acknowledges the accomplishments of academic excellence in the divisions of business, liberal arts and education, natural sciences, social sciences, and military science. In addition, presentations are made to students who receive UNCF scholarships, members of the academic bowl teams and honors students

Students will also hear a powerful message from Dr. Harold Lee Martin Sr., senior vice president for Academic Affairs at the University of North Carolina General Administration.
