Falcons, thank you for your efforts to stay safe during this difficult time. Unfortunately, the pandemic is not over, and so your efforts to Wait Six Feet Apart, Wear a Mask, and Wash Your Hands should continue when you leave the SAU Campus. Please continue to follow the guidance of your local health department when you are not on the campus. While you are away, please know that we are thinking about you and we are here to support you. We will restart our Zoom Room Group Tele-Counseling and Virtual-Health Center Consultations for you. Students can access the Virtual-Health Services through Teams. Go to the following website for more information: <https://www.st-aug.edu/health-wellness-virtual-communications/>

Please bookmark the CAPS and Gordon Health Center webpages for updates on these initiatives and for more helpful information. We are also pleased to announce expanded health and wellness support for you through our partnership with Advance Community Health of Raleigh, NC. Students will have the opportunity to participate in tele-health and counseling services with certified/qualified medical professionals while you are away from campus through Advance. More information on these services will be shared with you via email and the SAU App.

Falcons, I know it has not been easy to be a college student this year. I am proud of you for staying the course and for soaring to the end of the semester. I want you to also know that we are constantly evaluating the support services and student engagement initiatives that we deliver to you to ensure we are bringing you the very best. And, although you will be away from us, we will not be away from SAU. Therefore, if you have a problem that needs someone's attention, please contact us.

Good luck on your final examinations. Have a safe trip home and a wonderful Holiday with your family. We look forward to your safe return in the Spring.

Falcon Pride!

Danny C. Vélez, Ph.D.
